A Great Success of Wailuku Fair.

ROUND SUM FOR MAKAWAO CHURCH

Those Who Contributed to the Affair—New Plans for the Pythian Hall.

MAUI, Nov. 23.—Maui has had more church fairs or bazaars during the last week than ever before in her history. The first event of the kind, given by the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Wailuku, took place at Alexander Hall the evening of the 16th.

The three pretty rooms were so beautifully adorned as to be described, "fair-land" and a "dream of beauty." A large number of people were in attendance. The refreshments were all sold early in the evening, and nearly every article at the fancy tables before the evening was over; $300 was the large sum realized.

During last evening, the 22nd, the first bazaar ever held by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Makawao Foreign Church took place in Pala Hall.

It has been the annual custom of the society to hold sales of fancy work some time in November, but never before has a regular church fair been given. The interior of the hall was most profusely decorated with ferns, potted plants, bunting and other drapery. In the center of the hall was the large octagonal fancy work booth presided over by Mrs. F. W. Hardy, Mrs. Dora von Tempky and Miss Irene Aiken.

Nearby, in an adjoining corner, was a pretty Christmas tree, dazzling with the light of many candles, reflected in shining ornaments. This was the doll booth, in charge of Mrs. D. C. Lindsay and Mrs. E. B. Carley. Opposite this was the ice cream booth, in pink and green, presided over by Mrs. W. S. Nicoll and Miss Betts. Adjoining was the lemonade and ice drinks booth, decked out in striking orange drapery and the green ferns. Miss Clara Lowrie made this table the center of attraction, ably assisted during the latter part of the evening by Mr. Diggs of Woodland, Cal. The candy booth, adorned in red and green, was an attractive corner, presided over by Mesdames W. O. Aiken and Geo. Wilbur.

Opposite the candy table was the Japanese booth, which was artistically adorned with the lanterns, flags, umbrellas, fans, flowers and pottery of the island. In addition to the green of ferns and the vivid coloring of bunting, here Mesdames Eva, Nellie, and Ethel Smith dispensed tea and sweetmeats in Japanese china, and sold articles of Japanese art.

The Hawaiian booth, in red, white, blue and green, in charge of Mrs. W. F. McConekey, was a popular one, all the lahala work being quickly sold. One of the leading features of the bazaar was the fish pond, which occupied one-half of the stage. It was a mystic bridge constructed of quaint bamboo, with a large fish-net forming the water below. After the payment of a fee (25 cents), the fisherman stood upon the bridge and with pole and line angled until he hooked some package containing some fancy article.

Owing to the confusion attendant upon an affair of the kind, the excellent musical program did not receive the attention it merited. However, the fine cornet solos of Mr. C. D. Lufkin were very much appreciated, as well as the brilliant piano selections of Mr. Norton of Spreckelsville.

The singing of Hawaiian songs by a sextet of Maunaloa girls was excellent, and Miss Lowrie's piano solo was up to her usual high standard.

There was a large number of the district people present, which was more than equalled by the large attendance of Spreckelsville residents. A free train was run between Wailuku and Pala.

The receipts amounted to $42.

Thursday evening, the 21st, the Aloha Lodge of Knights of Pythias met at their present quarters in Bailey's Hall, Wailuku, to consider bids for building a new Pythian Hall. The Knights intend building a $5,000 structure on a lot land near Maunaloa Hospital, for which Architect O. G. Traphagen of Honolulu has already drawn the plan. The building is to be the most ornate one in Wailuku. Their lot of land, comprising one-fourth of an acre, is the gift of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company to the order. Inasmuch as the bids received were all too high, new ones will be called for.

By the way, the Pythian fraternity is an especially strong one in Wailuku, they having a membership of sixty, with fifteen applicants awaiting initiation.

GENERAL NOTES.

Hamakua-yoko will begin grinding during the middle of December, and Pala a little later on, December 20th.

The new school for Ulaio, Hana, has been just completed. It was contracted for by J. H. Nishwitz.

Congratulations were offered Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lowrie of Spreckelsville upon the advent of a baby girl Sunday last, and on the 18th best wishes for the future of a new baby boy were tendered Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hair of Hamakua-poko.

L. von Tempky, manager of Haleakala Ranch, who has been very ill with appendicitis, is now almost himself again.

Rev. Dr. Beckwith will preach a Thanksgiving sermon on the 25th in Pala Foreign Church.

Chinese Must Answer.

A telephone message was received Wednesday from Deputy Sheriff S. M. Spencer at Wailuku saying that Lum Hin, the alleged Chinese prisoner, had been discovered and arrested at that place. Lum Hin was brought to Hilo on the Kinau yesterday. The crime which it is alleged was committed by Lum Hin is the attempt to poison seventeen of his countrymen at Paipaiou by giving them tea, drugged with Paris green.—Hilo Herald.

HILO COTILLION CLUB.

Monthly Dance at the Hotel an Event of Interest.

The regular monthly dance of the Hilo Cotillion Club given at the Hilo Hotel Saturday night proved to be a very delightful affair. Owing to the inclemency of the weather not as many members as usual were present, but those in attendance enjoyed themselves until the midnight hour. Among those present were Mesdames Baldwin, Curtis, Bartells, Lewis, McKinney, Rice and Sedgwick, Misses Canario, Check, Hapai, Lewis, Ivy Richardson, and Messrs. Cook, Curtis, Baldwin, R. T. Balding, Jackson, Jarvis, Loebenstein, Guard, Kluegel, McKinney, Ray, Ridgway, Rice, Simpson, Sedgwick, and Winter.

Already preparations are being made for the masquerade ball to be given during the Christmas holidays by the Cotillion Club. Altogether the dance will be the event of the season, and if the present program is carried out, there will be many surprises when the unmasking takes place.—Hilo Tribune.

NOTHING ABOUT LIFE PRESERVERS

Following is a copy of the by-laws of the Hilo Baseball League for the season of 1901-2, together with the officers of the league. The rules are commendably brief but read like business from "kiver to kiver":

Section 1.—This organization shall be known as the "Hilo Base Ball League."

Sec. 2.—Its object shall be to take full charge of and govern the baseball teams that enter the league for the seasons of A. D. 1901 and 1902.

Sec. 3.—There shall be four officers of the league, a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer. They shall be elected from the members of the league.

Sec. 4.—The league shall be composed of the officers of the same and two representatives from each competing team; the manager and captain of each respective team shall be the qualified representatives. The manager and captain may appoint a proxy or alternate in writing, to take his place at any meeting of the league.

Sec. 5.—The duties of the president shall be to preside at all meetings, sign all documents requiring his signature, and do all the duties that a president usually performs.

Sec. 6.—The vice president shall act in the absence of the president, or whenever called upon to do so by that officer.

Sec. 7.—The duties of the secretary shall be to keep the minutes of the meetings, notify the members of special meetings, and keep account of league property and all other duties usually falling to a secretary.

Sec. 8.—The duties of the treasurer shall be to keep account of all monies of the league, expend and disburse upon a warrant countersigned by the president and secretary of the league, monies belonging to the same; collect all assessments; supervise the collection of the gate receipts and perform all the duties usually falling to a treasurer. He shall present a report of all meetings of the league giving the state of the finances of the league.

Sec. 9.—The League shall hold meetings once each month, on the first Friday evening, at 7 o'clock.

Sec. 10.—To constitute a quorum there must be seven members present in person.

Sec. 11.—The League shall appoint umpires for the season, or for a single game, as it may see fit.

Sec. 12.—The League shall appoint a body of three disinterested men, who understand the game of baseball, to act as a final court of appeal when the decision of an umpire is protested, or when any point comes up which cannot be decided by the League. This board shall be called the "Board of Appeal."

Sec. 13.—The latest obtainable Spaulding Base Ball Rules shall be the official rules of this League for the seasons of 1901 and 1902.

Sec. 14.—Any player who for any reason is expelled or suspended from one team is not eligible to play on any other team in the League during the season; but, however, the person expelled or suspended must be given a written charge containing reasons for such expulsion or suspension; he may then appeal to the League.

Sec. 15.—Special meetings may be called at any time, on a written request of three members of the League, or by the president, and only such business as that for which the meeting was called shall be transacted.
